

CASE STUDY

JACO Aerospace x Madison Ave Consulting

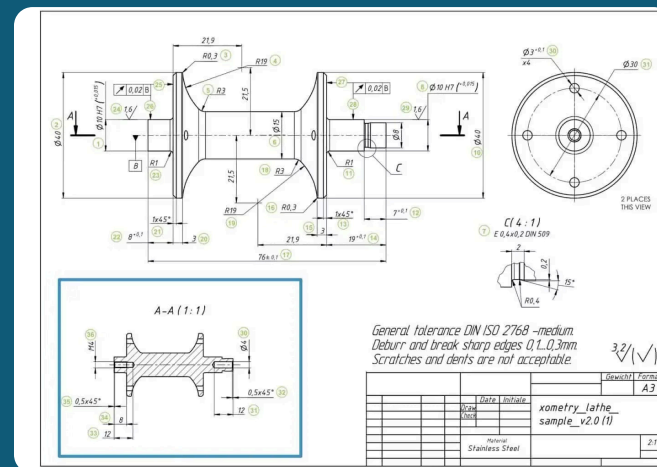

Manufacturing meets the Salesforce platform

JACO Aerospace is a precision manufacturing supplier to the aerospace industry. They needed a Salesforce environment that reflected how a modern manufacturer actually operates, from order to delivery.

THE CHALLENGE

Aerospace manufacturing is specialized

Standard tools were not built for this environment. JACO needed something purpose-built.

→ Custom order workflows

Order management required precision manufacturing logic that off-the-shelf tools could not handle.

→ Safety-critical document control

Version integrity is not optional in aerospace. Document control had to be airtight.

→ Disconnected teams

Sales and production operated in silos. Shared visibility was missing entirely.

→ Tools that did not connect

Existing systems left critical gaps between quoting, ordering, and delivery.

THE SOLUTION

Salesforce as the operational backbone

Madison Ave Consulting delivered a custom Salesforce build tailored to JACO's needs.

Custom Order Management

A purpose-built OMS on the Salesforce platform, designed for precision manufacturing workflows.

Custom Kanban Process

Production visibility across every stage. Teams see exactly where every order stands.

OneDrive Integration

Document and specification management connected directly to the platform. Version control built in.

Marketing Campaign Platform

Sales outreach tools embedded in the same environment as operations.

Admin on Demand

Ongoing engagement to evolve the platform as JACO's business grows.

KEY INSIGHT

Why Salesforce for Manufacturing

The Salesforce platform is not just for sales teams. With the right architecture, it becomes the operational backbone of a manufacturing company.

Quoting and Ordering

From first inquiry to confirmed order, all in one place.

Production Visibility

Real-time status across the shop floor and beyond.

Document Control

Specifications and revisions managed with precision.

Customer Relationships

Every interaction connected to every order.

Madison Ave Consulting | Salesforce excellence for manufacturing