

CASE STUDY

Dochter & Alexander x Madison Ave Consulting

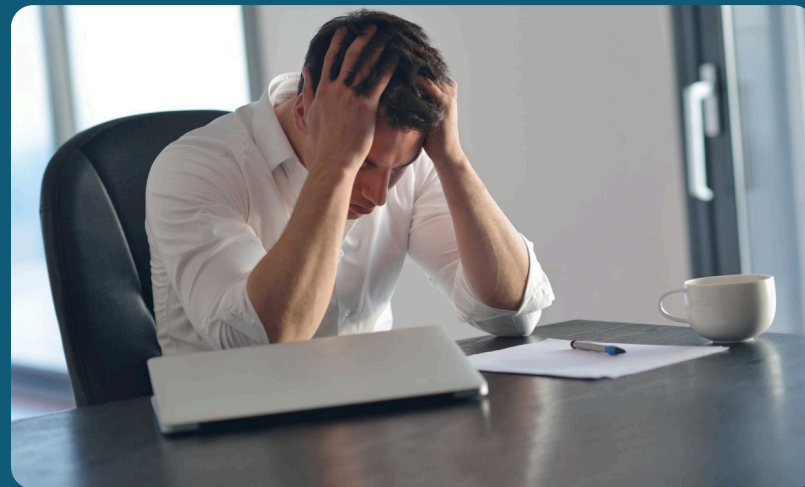

Retail leasing reinvented on Salesforce

Dochter & Alexander is a commercial real estate advisor focused on retail leasing. They partnered with Madison Ave Consulting for a full Salesforce implementation that captures the unique workflow of a CRE brokerage.

THE CHALLENGE

Retail brokerage is not generic CRE

Off-the-shelf CRM configurations leave retail brokers working around the tool, not with it.

→ Unique data model

Retail leasing has its own deal flow that generic CRE platforms ignore.

→ Branded market reports

Brokers need fast, polished reports for every client conversation.

→ Process visibility

Every phase of a deal must be tracked and visible across the team.

THE SOLUTION

Two-phase Salesforce implementation

Madison Ave Consulting delivered a phased build that captured the full brokerage workflow.

Custom Data Model

Built for retail leasing and advisory deals from the ground up.

Process Configuration

Documentation and setup aligned to how brokers actually operate.

Market Report Automation

Pulls directly from Salesforce data. No manual assembly required.

One-Click Delivery

Generate and send branded market reports to clients instantly.

WHY IT WORKS

Built around the broker. Not the other way around.

Brokers do not want to learn a new CRM. They want one that mirrors how they already think about their deals.

Our approach was to build the platform around their existing process and expand from there. The result is a system brokers actually use.
